Re: Reference Letter for Nick Dalton
Prepared By: Dan Smith | Account Director at Flight Path Creative

To Whom It May Concern;

Nick Dalton was employed as a senior web developer at our agency, Flight Path Creative, from April of 2015 through October of 2021. Nick is a very skilled web and application developer who brought great depth of knowledge and experience to our team. During his employment with FPC, he assisted our project management and executive team on dozens of web related projects, doing CSS, JavaScript and other front-end development work as well as building content management solutions and web applications for our clients.

We found Nick to be hard working, knowledgeable and friendly. He worked well with our internal team as well as with clients and always found solutions to any issue he was presented with.

I highly recommend Nick as a developer and am available on my cell or office if you are interested in learning more about his time at Flight Path Creative.

Thank you.
